WHICH WILL IT BE?

A Repeal Or a Modification of the Sherman Law?

CONGRESS NOW IN SESSION

To Legislate on the Whole Subject of Finances, and Probably a Thorough Revision of the Tariff-Material Enough to Occupy the Attention of Congress For Many Months to Come.

WASHINGTON, Ang. 7.—For the twelfth time in the history of the United States congress will at noon today be convened in "extraordinary" session.

The history which the session will make for itself will probably justify that title in more senses than one. Convened for a single specific object—the repeal or modification of what is popnlarly known as the Sherman act-it will not be restricted to that bare program, but will have in connection with it, to legislate on the whole subject of finance, including, probably, a thorough revision of the tariff. Those two subjects; distinct and yet connected, will supply material enough to occupy the attention of congress for many months to come. While the senate will have the great advantage of being guided and con-trolled by experienced leaders and debaters on both sides of the chamber, ii will also contain many members entirely new to its precedings. Its presiding officer, Vice President Stevenson, when he took the gavel on the 4th of March last from the hand of the retiring vice president, Mr. Morton, had no familiarity with the rules of legislative body, except that derived from his service in the honse of representatives during two congresses; but, during the six weeks of the extra session, he presided with dignity and ability. In the coming session, when exciting conflicts may be anticipated, and when parliamentary rulings may have to be prompt, sharp and decisive, Mr. Stevenson will have a reliable substitute to call to the chair in the person of the president of the senate pro tempore. Mr. Harris of Tennessee.

In the Senate.

The session today will be opened with prayer by the senate's new chaplain, Mr. Milburn.

Its two principal officers, Mr. Cox, the new secretary, and Mr. Bright, the new sergeant-at-arms, will also represent the changed political complexion of the body.

All the political clerkships underwent political change during the extra session in March; and most of the appointees under the former secretary and sergeant-at-arms have only had their official decapitation postponed, not

There are three new senators as to whose admission the question was left undecided at the close of the extra session. And this question must be one of the first to be settled and decided after the senate meets. The point in regard to them is whether a state legislature having been in session and having failed to elect a senator to fill a vacancy the vacancy can afterwards be filled through an appointment by the governor.

The question has arisen before several times in the history of the senate but its decision has not been uniform and now a precedent has to be estab lished in this case of senators appointed by the governors of Montana. Washington and Wyoming. It was debated through several days during the extra session, and may occupy considerable time of the "extraordinary" session before any legislative subject can be disposed of.

But it is to the old leaders of both political parties in the senate that the public will look for action.

Foremost on the Republican side is Mr. Sherman, who gave his name to the act now the object of so much condemnation—an act which he has defended. nation-an act which he has defended as a compromise measure, and which he is now willing and anxious to see re-pealed. He will probably be supported in whatever position he takes on the silver question by such able adjutants as Allison, Aldrich, Frye, Halc, Hawley, Hoar and Morrill; and he will be as ably antagonized by such Republican senators as Jones of Nevada, Teller,

Wolcott and Stewart. There are quite as many experienced debaters and parliamentarians on the Democratic side—including Senators Gorman, Gray, George, Harris, Morgan, Pugh, Vest. Vance and Voorhees: but they will all range themselves, not on party lines, but on their individual and state views of financial policy.

The first business in order after the senate is called to order will be to administer the oath of office to three senators and to Mr. Cox, the new secretary of the senators. The senators who will take the oath are Mr. Perkins, who snc-ceeds Senator Stanford; Mr. Pasco of Florida, who has been re-elected after serving ad interim under a guberna-torial appointment, and Mr. Quay of Pennsylvania who was not present during the last extra session and so has not yet qualified.

As soon as notice is received from the house that it has organized, the proper committee will be appointed to wait upon the president and notify him that congress is ready to receive any com-munication he may care to make. This will call for the message explaining the president's reasons for convening congress in special session and suggesting legislation to care the ills from which the country is suffering. The torrid heat at this time does not incite to active exertion so that the senators are not likely to sit many honrs daily, nor to hold daily sessions at the beginning.

If, however, the senate is disposed to go earnestly at work from the start it nas before it, as aiready stated, the privilege question of the right to seats of Senators Mantle of Montans, Beckwith of Wyoming, and Allen of Washington. Should the Republicans insist npon a disposition of these cases nothing else can be done until they are passed upon. Another privileged motion pending is Mr. Hoar's resolution touching Senator Roach's character, with Mr. Gorman's substitute, and still another is Mr. Chandler's resolution of similar nature concerning Senator Power. ator Power.

So far no line of policy has been defined by either party upon these subjects, and it is probable that in both the senate and the honse the parties will caucus during the week to agree upon their respective plans of cam-

In the House.

The house will be called to order by Clerk Kerr, who has been selected by a caucus of his party for re-election, but who would nevertheless have performed that duty under the law, as the holding over clerk of the last house, even if he had not been chosen for re-election. When he calls the roll he will look upon nearly 100 new and untried men and will find many familiar faces ab-

The onlookers from the gallcries will also see some familiar faces which have been missing for some years, restored to the halls of legislation.

There will probably be little done in the house the first week owing to the non-existence of committees. The organization of the house today will take but a short time and the program for the remainder of the day will depend entirely upon intimation concerning the message, as may have previously come from the White House. If the precedents are followed, Speaker Crisp will be sworn in by Representative Charles O'Neill of Pennsylvania who is the oldest member in point of service and the "Father of the Honse.

The usual resolution notifying the senate that it has been organized and is ready for business, will be sent to that body, and three members on the part of the house will be named to act as a joint committee to wait upon the presi-

It is not likely that the message will be sent in today. The afternoon will probably be occupied in the biennial drawing for seats.

It is only by authority of the rules of the house that the speaker appoints the committees. The usual custom will doubtless, therefore, be followed in adopting, temporarily, the rules of the previous congress.

No bills, under the rules, can be introduced until the committees have been named, but the desire of representatives to keep pace with the senate in this respect will probably cause a resolution to be passed suspending the rules. so as to permit the introduction of bills for reference to the appropriate committees when appointed committees when appointed.

After the message is read, both ouse and senate will probably adjourn over for three days.

SPECIAL CABINET MEETING.

A Draft of the President's Message Read to the Mombers.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—The special meeting of the cabinet, called for 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon, convened promptly at that hour. All the members were present. The session lasted until half-past 5 o'clock, without interruption of any kind. Private Secretary Thurber could not say what the cabinet discussed, but it is understood that the president read to his advisers a rough draft of his forthcoming message to congress.

Free Coinage at a Higher Ratio.

Washington, Ang. 7. - There ap pears to be a new aspect to the fight for the repeal of the silver purchase law. Quite a number of free silver men who are not so rabid as those from the silver producing states are proposing. as a compromise, the free coinage of silver, but at an increased ratio, say 20 to 1, or 24 to 1, the majority favoring the smaller ratio. These advocates of free coinage claim that thereby they can equalize the value of gold and silver, and that while a ratio of 20 to 1 would at first make the bullion in a gold dollar worth more than the bullion in a silver dollar, the demand for silver for the purpose of coinage would add a value to the metal, practically creating a parity between them. In this way they say, there can be obtained an additional circulation, which will improve the situation and prevent the silver states from going into bankruptcy, and that such a compromise, while it at first would be unsatisfactory to the silver men, as well as to the gold men, would be vindicated by time.

This compromise if supported by all the silver men, would undoubtedly gain many supporters from those who are now for the unconditional repeal of the silver purchase law, and it might be that there would be enough votes se-cured to carry the proposition through the house and senate.

Stewart Has a Bill.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—Senator Stewart of Nevada, who has just arrived in Washington from Chicago, where he attended the silver conference, has already prepared a bill "To restore the right of coinage," which he will introduce at the earliest opportunity. The first section reads as follows:

"Be it enacted etc., That the 14th section of the act of Jan. 18, 1887 be and the same is hereby, re-eacted. which reads as follows;

"That gold and silver bullion brought to the mint for coinage shall be received and coined by the proper officers, for the benefit of the depositors; provided, that it shall be lawful to refuse, at the mint, any deposit of less value than $100, and any bullion so base as to be of these metals be in such small proportion that it can not be separated advantageously, no allowance shall be made to the depositor for the value of such metal."

The second section repeals the silver purchasing clause of the Sherman law

Snow For Sergeant-at-Arms.

Washington, Aug. 7.—A lack of harmony again prevented the Buckeye state from securing a prominent office. S. S. Yoder of Ohio was defeated for position of sergeant-at-arms of the honse of representatives by a division in Ohio's ranks. Four of the 11 Ohio congressmen voted for an Illinois man in preference to a man from their own state, and by the narrow margin of 1 vote Snow of Illinois defeated Yoder. vote Snow of Illinois defeated Yoder. The vote stood 96 for Snow to 95 for Yoder. It took a recapitulation to decide who had won. But one Ohio man was absent, and he was Harter, who was pledged to Yoder. Had he been present the result might have been different, for his vote for Yoder would have resulted in a tie.

A Tip on the Message.

DENVER, Aug. 7.—President Moffat of the First National bank has a tip from New York that Cleveland will recommend the coinage of the American product at the ratio of 20 to 1, and ascribes Saturcay's advance to that fact. He says if this is true and congress adopts it he will work 3,000 men in his mines in 48 honrs.

The president, it is said, will await Minister Blount's ex-pected arrival in Washington, on or about Aug. 20, and his verbal report of the condition of affairs before definitely making up his mind what course to reccommend to congress.

SLEEPERS LEAVE THE TRACK. Three Men Killed and Several Injured or the Lake Shore Road.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 7.-Train No. 9 of the Lake Shore railroad left here Saturday night for Chicago on time. The train was composed of three coaches. three baggagecars and five sleepers. It left Fremout, O., 10 minutes late and was running at a high rate of speed for Toledo. When the train was about 10 miles ont of Fremont, at a small sta-tion called Lindsay, the sleepingcars left the track and crashed into a freight train that was waiting on a siding for the passenger train to pass. The first part of the train got by in safety, but the sleepingcars rolled over the ties some distance, and finally swerving from their course hit the engine of the freight train with tremend ous force. The noise of the collision aroused the people in the little town, and they soon surrounded the wreck ready to aid the unfortunate passengers. whose groans could be heard amid the noise of escaping steam and the pan-demonium that followed the destruction of the locomotives. The sleeping-cars were practically reduced to kindlingwood and that anyone escaped is a miracle. A special train left Toledo soon after the report of the accident with Lake Shore officials on board to make a thorough examination of the track and as certain what caused the wreck. The only theory given is that the rails spread and let the heavy sleepingcars through to the ties. The remainder of the train passed the bad spot in safety but the sleepingcars were well filled with people bound to the world's fair and the added weight was too much for the poor spot in the track. The freight engine was totally demolished and rolled over on its side from the force of the collision.

The following persons were killed ontright: E. Lafferty, engineer of the freight

THE SHERMAN LAW.

Fuil Text of the Silver-Purchasing Act of 1890.

ITS REPEAL IS NOW DEMANDED

It Provided For the Purchase of 4,500,004 Ounces of Silver Bullion and the Coinage of 2,000,000 Ounces of the Same Per Month, and Payment With Treasury Notes Redeemable in Coin.

Washington, Aug. 7.—The following is a full text of the Sherman silver purchase law of 1890, about which there has been so much discussion:

An act directing the purchase of silver bullion and the issue of treasury notes thereon, and for other purposes.

Be it enacted by the senate and house of representatives of the United States of America, in congress assembled, that the secretary of the treasury is hereby directed to purchase from time to time silver bul lion to the aggregate amount of 4,500,000 ounces, or so much thereof as may be of fered each month at the market price thereof not exceeding $1 for three hundred and seventy-one and twenty-five hun dredths grains of pure silver, and to issue in payment for such purchases of silver buliion treasury notes of the United States to be prepared by the secretary of the treasnry in such form and of such denominations-not less than $1 nor more than $1,000—as he may prescribe, and a snm sufficient to carry into effect the provisions of this act is hereby appropriated out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated.

Section 2. That the treasury notes is sued in accordance with the provisions of the act shall be redeemable on demand, it coin, at the treasury of the United States, or at the office of any assistant treasurer of the United States, and when so redeemed may be reissued, but no greater or iess amount of such notes shail be outstanding at any time than the cost of the silver bul lion and the standard sliver dollars coined therefrom, then held in the treasury pur chased by such notes; and such treasury notes shall be a legal tender in payment of aii debts, public and private, except where otherwise expressly stipulated in the contract, and shall be receivable for customs. taxes and public dues, and when so received may be reissued; and such notes, when held by any national banking association may be counted as a part of its lawful reserve. That upon demand of the holder of any trensury notes herein provided for the secretary of the treasury shall, under such regulations as he may prescribe, redeem such notes in gold or silver coin at his discretion, it being the estabiished policy of the United States to maintain the two metals on a parity with each other upon the present legal ratio, or such ratio as may be provided by law.

Section 3. That the secretary of the treasury shail each mouth coin 2,000,000 ounces of the silver bullion purchased under the provisions of this act into standard silver dollars until the 1st day of July, 1891, and after that time he shall coin of of the silver bullion purchased under the provisions of this act as much as may be necessary to provide for the redemption of the treasury notes herein provided for, and any gain or seigniorage arising from such coinage shall be accounted for and paid into the treasury. Section 4. That the silver bullion purchased under the provisions of this act shall be subject to the requirements of existing iaw and the regulations of the mint service governing the methods of determining the amount of pure silver contained and the amount of charges or deductions, if any, to be made.

Section 5. That so much of the act of Feb. 28, 1878, entitled "An act to authorize the coinage of the standard silver dollar, and to restore its legal tender character. as requires the monthly purchase and coinage of the same into silver dollars of not less than $2,000,000 nor more than $4,000. 000 worth of giver builion is hereby repealed.

Section 6. That upon the passage of this act the baiances standing with the treasurer of the United States to the respective credits of national banks for deposits made to redeem the circulating notes of such banks and all deposits thereafter received for like purpose shail be covered into the treasury as a misceiianeous receipt, and the treasurer of the United States shall redeem from the general cash in the treasury the circulating notes of said banks which may come into his possession subject to redemption, and upon the certifi-cate of the comptroller of the currency that such notes have been received by him. and that they have been destroyed by him and that no new notes will be issued in their place, reimbursement of their amount shall be made to the treasurer, under such regulations as the secretary of the treasury may prescribe, from an appropriation hereby created, to be known as national bank notes redemption account, but the provisions of this act shall not apply to the deposits received under Section 8 of the act of June 20, 1874, requiring every national bank to keep in lawful money with the treasurer of the United States a sum equal to 5 per centum of its circulation, to be held and used for the redemption of its circulating notes, and the balance remaining of the deposits so covered shall at the close of each month be reported on the monthly public debt statement as debt of the United States bearing no interest.

One of St. Clair's Cannon Found.

Section 7. That this act shall take effect

GREENVILLE, O., Aug. 7. — Eight miles north of the city, John Neff found a cannon captured from General St. Clair's soldiers by Indians during the retreat from Fort Recovery to Greenville in 1791. A derrick was used to extricate it from a hole 11 feet deep. It is of brass, six feet long, is loaded, and shoots a 6-pound ball.

A CARD FROM A VOTER.

There seems to be a disposition on the pari of certain members of the City Council, to deny to the officers of the city government, heretofore 17, inclusive. elected by the people, appointed by that board.

While this disposition is not as yet clearly and openly expressed, the same is plainly manifest by the workings of a certain few, who betray by their actions, that this plan of filling the city offices, would be by far, the most satisfactory to themselves.

Whatever may be the des'gn or motive in this method of appointing officers, by Council instead of electing them by the people, It is certainly distastefull to the tax-payers and voters of the city, who will certainly object both to any Star Chamber proceedings as well as to having themselves muzzled in their choice of Mayor and other officers, in the municipal government.

From a very wide expression of opinion among ail classes and conditions, it is apparent, that the great majority of the citizens of this city are unwilling to part with the right to name their own choice of officers. Nor is this right, so to name them, either strange or extraordinary when it is considered that their person, weilfare, property and methods in pursuit of life and happiness, come directly within the power aud jurisdiction of the man selected.

There is no hint or Insinuationt that such appolutees of the Council would not do all that is required of them, properly and with an eye to the weiifare and prosperity of the people. No doubt exists but what good and well qualified men would be selected, but lu every system of good government and according to the most desirable methods of well regulated society, the right of the people to select their representatives, is not only the most cherished, but is likewise the most equitable and sacred.

It is gratifying to note, that there is a fairminded disposition on the part of uearly all of the memhers of the City Council, to recognize and eoutiuue this right of the people and if those who constitute the minority in this respect, seriously contemplate such measures, at the adjourned meeting of Council to take place ou the 17th, let them speak out, and the people, tax-payers and voiers will know just how to net.

The Attendance at the World's Fair Sunday-Pythlan Day. CHICAGO, Aug. 7 .- All entrances for the exposition grounds were opened Sunday during the usual hours, but the crowd that passed through the gates was extremely small. The fair was open, but in name only. There was no music in the main grounds; the thousands of booths and all the restaurants were closed. There were no services in festival hall.

The few stragglers who wandered aimlessly about the vast park soon tired of the quiet and made for the Plaisance. Here many places of amusement that were open to the public last Sunday were closed owing to a lack of patronage. The theaters, however, were fairly well attended owing, perhaps to a reduction in the entrance haps, to a reduction in the entrance fee. At 2 o'clock the paid admissions were but 8,845, this number being about 2,000 short of the figure at the same hour last Sunday.

Pythian Day.

Next Wednesday will be celebrated as Pythian day. The ceremonies will begin in festival hall at 2 o'clock with Hon. W. Blackwell, supreme chancellor, presiding. The grand chancellor of Illinois Knights of Pythias, Hon. Charles A. Barnes of Jacksonville, Ills., will deliver an address of welcome will deliver an address of welcome which will be followed by the principal address of the day, the orator being Supreme Representative Colgorove of Hastings, Mich.

THEIR FAMILIES STARVING. They Were Stealing Potatoes and Get Shot, One Fatally.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., Aug. 7.—While robbing a potato patch near Brilliant, this county, John McDonald and Charles this county, John McDonald and Charles Justis were shot, one fatally, by Lewis Downer, the owner of the place. Justis has a large charge of birdshot in his right lung and can not recover, while McDonald escaped with a badly wounded leg. For some time the farmers and gardeners in and around Brilliant have been annoyed by petty thieves, and Downer concluded to put a stop to it. He loaded his shotgun, and when Justis and McDonald appeared he opened fire upon them. The wounded men are employes of the Brilliant mill, out of employment, and needed the potatoes for their families, who are starving.
